By WEBB MCKINLEY

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Junior officers in Iraq's armed forces staged a pro-Nasser revolt today against Premier Abdel Karim Kassem and claimed they had "destroyed his dirty rule."

Blaring Egyptian martial music over Baghdad Radio, the rebels declared their planes and tanks had demolished Kassem's defense ministry in Baghdad, where the premier lived under heavy guard. "The rebels announced at one point, 'We have destroyed the tyrant.' The broadcast did not make clear that Kassem, 48, had been killed, but the Iranian government said it had received word from the Iraqi capital confirming Kassem's death in the defense ministry.

Turkey's semi-official Anatolian News Agency also reported that the premier had been assassinated and 19 Iraqi army generals arrested.

The British Embassy in Baghdad reported to London that junior officers had risen against Kassem's police state regime but did not confirm immediately the report that the premier had been assassinated.

"The population of Baghdad itself is quiet," the embassy's first messages to London said.

Baghdad Radio announced all Iraq's borders—with Turkey, Syria, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Iran—were closed. All Iraqi airports also were closed.

The rebels, calling themselves the National Council of the Revolutionary Command, announced that a national guard had been set up under an army colonel identified as Abdel Kerim Mustafa.

The council pledged to respect the United Nations charter and international agreements, to follow a nonalignment policy abroad and a policy of democracy at home.

Icy Blast From Canada Hits U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blast of icy air from Canada, fanned by strong northerly winds, swept across broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today, ending a brief spell of fairly mild winter weather in many sections.

Temperatures tumbled to below zero from Upper Michigan eastward into northern Maine and southward into upstate New York. The mercury dropped to 19 below in Pellston, Mich., one of the coldest spots.

New York State's lows included -16 in Massena and Utica; -14 in Binghamton, Rome and Plattsburgh; -13 in Watertown; -12 in Syracuse and Glens Falls; -9 in Albany and -3 in Rochester, Buffalo and Elmira.

The cold wave covered the New England region with temperatures headed for below zero in extreme northern Maine to near zero in other areas. Northerly winds were clocked up to 40 m.p.h., and gale warnings were posted along coastal areas.

Freezing weather covered areas from southeastern Pennsylvania westward through extreme Southern Illinois and into southeastern Kansas and northward through central Nebraska and the Dakotas.

Snow flurries fell in the cold air in much of the Great Lakes region southward into the northern and central sections of the Ohio Valley and northeastward into northern New England. Snow mixed with freezing drizzle dampened North Dakota into northern Minnesota. There was considerable fog and drizzle through eastern Nebraska southward into central and eastern Kansas.

Rain sprinkled the Middle Atlantic Coast and drizzle, sprayed areas in Tennessee northward into the southern Ohio Valley. It was cloudy and cooler in most of the Southeast. Temperatures ranged from the 30s in Tennessee to the 50s in Florida.

Fairly mild weather continued in many sections of the West. The mercury climbed to 90 Thursday in Thermal and Imperial, Calif. The 69 reading in Albuquerque, N.M., was a record for Feb. 7.

THE LADY HAS SOMETHING — You can tell a lady has something if she excites the curiosity of another member of her sex. The lady in this instance is the Mona Lisa, and the other lady removed her shoes and climbed aboard a chair for a better view of the DaVinci masterpiece. ## State Cannot Take Blame in Barnett Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled today Mississippi could not accept any blame in the contempt of court proceedings against Gov. Ross Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson.

"The court has ruled the state cannot claim anything," Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle said, "but the state has not waived its right to make additional motions along this line."

Garner W. Green, a Mississippi special assistant attorney general had argued that Barnett's acts in the Mississippi desegregation crisis last fall were the acts of the state.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—An unprecedented criminal contempt of court hearing for the governor and lieutenant governor of Mississippi starts today before the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

State sources said neither Gov. Ross Barnett nor Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr., both convicted of civil contempt last year, was expected to appear in court. Attorneys will plead their case.

The appeals court, which has never imposed penalties for the civil convictions, has ordered the state officials to show why they should not be held in criminal contempt for seeking to block admission of James H. Meredith, a Negro, to the University of Mississippi.

In briefs filed before the hearing, Mississippi asked that the charges be tossed out. The state argued that Barnett and Johnson acted as Mississippi officials in compliance with state laws and not as individuals. The state also said the appeals court lacked jurisdiction and the charges were not properly prepared.

After the appeals judges issued an order prohibiting interference with Meredith's admission, Barnett and Johnson each turned the 29-year-old Negro away from the university campus.

In the civil court contempt case, the appeals court set jail penalties and daily fines of $10,000 for Barnett and $5,000 for Johnson.

Contracts for December Up

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—December contracts for future construction in Arkansas totaled $23,729,000, up 23 per cent over December 1961, the F. W. Dodge Corp. reported today. The figure brought the 1962 total to 10 per cent above 1961.

The breakdown as reported by the construction news and marketing specialists showed non-residential at $8,898,000, up 101 per cent; residential at $7,066,000, up nine per cent, and engineering construction at $7,765,000, down eight per cent.

Cumulative total of construction contracts for 1962 was $309,007,000.

At 100 N. Main this morning a parked truck driven by H. L. Coon of Gurdon damaged a fender of an auto parked alongside in backing out. The auto belonged to Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Giegheon. Officers Martin and McCulley charged the Gurdon man with hazardous driving.

At 3rd and Pine yesterday autos driven by Mrs. Perry Moses of Hope and A. H. Richardson of Princeton, La. collided with minor damage to both vehicles. Officers Brown, Sinyard and Martin investigated.

Gives Birth to Baby in Auto

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Mrs. Louis Andrews of Lonoke, Ark., gave birth to a 6 pound 15 ounce girl today as the family car sped over the new Arkansas River bridge en route to a Little Rock hospital.

Andrews stopped a patrol car and said his wife was having a baby. He asked for an escort to the hospital.

The police obliged, radioing headquarters to telephone the hospital. The hospital staff was waiting when the cars arrived.

Mother and baby were reported in good condition. It was the first child for the Andrews.

Most Unhappy With Shampoo

DETROIT (AP)—Irene Janowski, a beautician, was most unhappy with the shampoo her husband gave her when she got home from work.

The homemade shampoo consisted of sugar, salt, ketchup, mustard, salad dressing, meat sauce and a can of macaroni—all well mixed, she told Judge Arthur Koscinski.

"I thought it might help her in her work," Alexander Janowski told the court.

Literacy Test Amendment in Voter Registration Bill Stricken by Vote of House

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas House struck a literacy amendment from a proposed voter registration bill today after Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen ended a filibuster against it.

But the House refused to adopt a substitute proposal.

Van Dalsen tied up the bill by filibustering through the so-called morning hour Thursday.

The House revoked by voice vote the first literacy amendment, which was tacked onto the bill Wednesday. Then it voted 66-14 against a second proposed amendment with less stringent literacy requirements.

Hempstead County Rep. Talbot Feild Jr. was the author of both the amendment repealed today and the substitute which was defeated.

Washington County Rep. Charles Stewart pulled a parliamentary maneuver which kept the second Feild amendment alive over the weekend. He moved for reconsideration. Under House rules, no one except Stewart can bring the amendment up again until Monday.

Stewart said he wanted to give representatives time to discuss the matter with their constituents over the weekend.

Pulaski County Rep. Ben Allen carried the fight against the literacy requirement. He first indicated that he might filibuster to hold up a vote until Monday, but he finally left the floor.

The first Feild amendment was adopted by a unanimous voice vote, but many House members apparently did not know at the time what they were voting on.

Under House rules, amendments can be voted on after reading by the clerk. Members do not have to have a printed copy, as they do with bills.

No one told the House when the proposal came up on the first vote Wednesday that it was a literacy amendment. Apparently only a few were listening when the amendment was read.

Garland County Rep. Nathan Schoenfeld tried Wednesday to get the amendment read a second time, but was not successful, and he and several members of the Pulaski County delegation immediately began working against it.

They offered the repealer amendment immediately after the

Survivor Says Pilot Was Hero

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)

A U.S. Air Force man who survived Wednesday's crash of a B26 fighter said today the pilot of the plane sacrificed his life to permit him and a Vietnamese observer to bail out of the doomed aircraft.

Lt. James E. Johnson, 28, Winter Haven, Fla., who was picked up by a rescue helicopter after spending about 48 hours in the jungle, told reporters on arrival here "I sincerely believe" that Maj. James R. O'Neill, 40, Huntington Station, N.Y., "saved my life."

O'Neill's body was found in the wreckage of the plane, which went down 260 miles northeast of here with the third occupant, aspirant chief warrant officer Dien Dinh Thong.

Johnson appeared in good condition but later Air Force officials said he complained of pains in his ribs and was sent to a hospital for a checkup.

Thong suffered a left eye injury when his parachute hit a tree. He had the eye covered with bandage.

When asked what caused the plane crash, Johnson said, "We don't know."

He said he got stuck as he was preparing to bail out. He added: "We had only 15 seconds to get out" but O'Neill "held the plane straight to allow us to get out."

Johnson said he bailed out first, followed by Thong. O'Neill didn't have a chance to leave the plane, Johnson went on, because by the time Thong bailed out, the plane was almost ready to hit a mountain.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has bluntly warned the Soviet Union that if it ever again sets up offensive weapons in Cuba the United States will know it and will be prepared for history's greatest crisis.

The risks in such a situation would be so alarming, Kennedy told his news conference Thursday, that he believes "the Soviet Union will proceed with caution and care."

And the President said the same goes for the United States, which he said must not be stamped into rash action on the basis of rumor and hearsay concerning Soviet strength in Cuba.

Kennedy's remarks, delivered with obvious feeling, represented a blast aimed at two targets:

1. At the Kremlin leaders who continue to keep a formidable supply of short-range arms in Cuba.

2. At administration critics, in and out of Congress, who suggest that U.S. intelligence may be overlooking ominous hidden stocks of Soviet missiles in Cuba.

Kennedy voiced full confidence that such secret stockpiles do not exist. But he readily conceded he could be wrong.

If he is, Kennedy implied, it wouldn't make much difference because hidden weapons would have to be uncovered and placed in position before use and this would be discovered by aerial reconnaissance.

He said: "We cannot prove that there is not a missile in a cave or that the Soviet Union isn't going to ship (sic) next week. We prepared for that. But we will find them when they do, and when they do, the Soviet Union and Cuba and the United States must all be aware that this will produce the greatest crisis which the world has faced in its history."

Cuba completely dominated the news conference, with Kennedy making these other major points: Discussions are being conducted with the Soviet Union concerning a promised withdrawal "in due course" of remaining Soviet troops in Cuba. Kennedy said he wants a better definition of "in due course" and wonders if a withdrawal could be accomplished this winter.

In his spirited defense of the administration's Cuban intelligence program, Kennedy appeared angry even bitter about the conduct of certain critics in Congress. While saying the government welcomes reports of Soviet moves in the Caribbean, the President declared:

"Even some of the members of Congress who have come forward either refuse to say where they heard the information or provide us with reports which do not have substance to them."

One of Kennedy's principal critics, Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., told The Associated Press Wednesday he is offering the administration reports of Soviet strength in Cuba but is unwilling to disclose his sources.

Another neighbor, Bill Bartlett, ran into the blazing building and dragged French out. The father tried to rush into the house but was forced back by the flames.

Mrs. French, about 32, returned from work at the postoffice after firemen were on the scene. She was hospitalized, suffering from shock. The father was treated for a cut foot.

The bodies of the children, aged 4 to 16 years, were found in beds on the second floor.

Eight in Family Perish in Fire

TORONTO (AP)—All eight children of one family burned to death today in a fire that roared through their tenement home in Toronto's West End.

The father, Roy French, 36, told a neighbor he fell asleep and left an electric kettle going. The kettle overheated and exploded, he said.

Another neighbor, Bill Bartlett, ran into the blazing building and dragged French out. The father tried to rush into the house but was forced back by the flames.

Mrs. French, about 32, returned from work at the postoffice after firemen were on the scene. She was hospitalized, suffering from shock. The father was treated for a cut foot.

The bodies of the children, aged 4 to 16 years, were found in beds on the second floor.

FROM STAR TO STABLE—U.S. Agriculture Dept. research engineer H. C. Liu, left, holds a large 20-ray star he made for his family's Christmas tree. The star, known geometrically as a radiant icosahedron, gave Liu the idea for a new kind of farm building. The shape of the building is a modified icosahedron, shown in a model, right. It's constructed by bolting five diamond-shaped panels to a pentagonal base. The frame is filled in with a flexible latticework, then covered with a spray-on plastic material and finished with a weather-resistant coating. The covering adds little weight to the structure, as a regular roof would, and increases its strength as a conventional roof would not. Such buildings would be useful for storage bins, livestock shelters or dwellings.

Move to Halt Pressure on Cotton Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration has moved to halt congressional and other pressure that it attempt to solve a serious cotton marketing problem without new legislation.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced Wednesday night that government support prices for the 1963 cotton crop will be about the same level as last year.

Cotton usage in this country has dipped sharply under a two-price system growing out of the administration's present cotton policies.

Foreign buyers get the benefit of an export subsidy designed to make U. S. cotton competitive in lower priced world markets.

The administration has said it has been necessary to support domestic prices above world levels to protect grower income. Last week President Kennedy recommended in a special farm message that congress authorize a payment which would make cotton available to domestic mills at prices on a par with those paid by foreign competitors. These payments could cost a quarter of a billion dollars a year.

But some Congress members have said that legislation is not necessary, that the administration has ample authority to take care of the price disparity situation. They have suggested a reduction in price supports and also the use of an import fee on textiles.

The administration has been reluctant to reduce grower support and to use, without tariff commission approval, restrictive import fees.

Freeman's action in announcing the 1963 supports virtually eliminates the counter proposals to the administration plan. There is strong doubt that once the government sets price support rates, it has legal authority to reduce them.

There appeared today to be no alternative to the administration's plan.

ayment plan to help domestic mills.

The 1963 crop will be supported at not less than a national average of 31.70 cents a pound compared with 31.88 cents last year.

However, the support price for the base grade used by markets — middling one inch — will be 32.47 cents a pound, the same as last year. The department will announce later rates on the various grades and staple lengths of cotton. It appears that the rates for the grades above one inch middling will be supported at about the same levels as last year, but that lower grades will be supported at slightly reduced rates.

Opposes Regulation
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Hot Springs City Council passed a resolution Wednesday opposing state legislation to regulate pay and working hours of firemen. The Camden City Board passed a similar resolution. The Hot Springs measure said the bill would cost the city an additional $60,000 annually, would mean a 12 per cent reduction of salary for all city employees and cause abandonment of two fire stations.

Against Tax Exemption on Seed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Revenue and Taxation Committee of the Arkansas House recommended against passage today of bills which would exempt seed, fertilizer and agricultural chemicals from the state sales tax.

The committee acted on the bills without discussion after hearing an explanation by the authors. Lawrence County Rep. Paul Graham wrote the bill to exempt seed and fertilizer and Poinsett County Rep. Bill Thompson sponsored the bill to exempt chemicals.

CHEVROLET TRUCK QUALITY

You can see the difference wherever you look

If you believe various makes of trucks are pretty much alike, you aren't doing justice to your pocketbook. There are differences.

A Chevrolet truck welcomes comparison. Look at the little things on it—latches, hinges, stitching in the upholstery. Notice how strong the tailgate is, the rubber encased chains that keep it from sagging.

The body floor is made of select wood to eliminate the rust problem and give you better footing. The lower side panels are double-walled; you might dent the inside but it won't show through.

Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

If you are going to need a new truck this year, you should look at the quality Chevrolet has to offer. May we bring over a new '63 so you can examine it?

New High Torque 230-cu.-in. Six is lighter but more powerful than its predecessor. It is standard in Series C10 through C60 models.

New High Torque 292-cu.-in. Six—most powerful truck 6 Chevrolet has ever built! Standard in Series C60, optional at extra cost in lighter models.

SHE TOOK HIM ON HIS TERMS

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE
Dear Helen: Why does history repeat itself? Having had one unhappy romance it now looks as if I were catapulting into another. Now, when it's too late, I wish I had my child back.

Eight years ago I met a divorced man eight years younger than I. He was handsome, forthright and cruelly frank. He loved me but marriage was not for him. If I wanted to accept him on his terms, okay. If not, he would go his way but not without an ache in his heart for I was the only woman he had ever met about whom he thought day and night.

The wound from that first unhappy romance was still raw so I said, "I'll go my way and you go yours." A week passed then he phoned and I accepted him on her terms.

My whole life and soul revolves around this man for, you see, I love him. After his fashion, I suppose he cares, or did care, for me. He enjoys my company, my home and my cooking. Both of us working made it difficult for us to meet except on weekends. But that in itself made the meetings all the more pleasant.

I was content to let things remain as they were. Then by chance I happened to see him driving down Main Street with a blonde divorcee in her car, a baby blue sedan. I recognized it and her because we both go to the same beauty parlor.

The girl who does my hair tells me the blond has three children, is 27, can't cook and has only recently been divorced.

I have been going through hell since I found out. The first weekend he stood me up—evidently for her. I took him back with no comment. But the second time he walked out again this past weekend — has made me think twice.

I am hurt and bewildered. I can't eat and cry so much I dread to show my face at the office. Foolishly, I kept calling him last week (I knew I shouldn't) and

Malvern Recruits Women Workers

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — The city of Malvern's drive to recruit 4,000 women as potential workers for a new industry was more successful than had been anticipated. Thursday was the deadline set by an unidentified industry which said it needed the women as a potential work force if it was to locate in the area.

James Vannoy, manager of the Malvern Chamber of Commerce, said that as of Thursday, 4,400 applications had been received and more may be in the mail.

He said the recruiting campaign was one of the largest of its kind in the central section of the state and that registrants lived in Hot Spring, Garland, Saline, Clark, Dallas and Grant counties.

The next step will be a testing program for the applicants, whose ages range from 18 to 50.

Respiratory Disease Outbreak

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Outbreaks of acute respiratory diseases have been reported in 10 states and the District of Columbia, the U.S. Public Health Service's communicable disease center said today.

The outbreaks have been reported in Georgia, South Carolina, Illinois, Kansas, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, Delaware, Maine and Vermont.

The report said the number of pneumonia-influenza deaths reported weekly by 108 cities has remained above the epidemic stage for the past month.

still he didn't show up. I gave him my whole life for seven years and now he steps out with his girl and thinks nothing of it. Should I try and get him away from this woman or go my broken-hearted way alone? —Two-Time Loser

Dear Two: Will women never learn that the surest way to lose a man is to go after him! Having taken this man on the terms he cold-bloodedly set forth, you should have known what would happen.

Don't demean yourself by competing with this blonde. Unless she has the wisdom of a Lillith, he'll come back, provided you don't make a nuisance of yourself. After all, he's going to think twice before he marries a woman who can't cook and has three children.

Show some pride. He laid down his terms. Now had him yours: If you still love him, and if and when he returns, this is going to be marriage or else. Should he hesitate for even on moment, shut him out of your life, even if you have to bang the door in his face. Such a cad doesn't deserve a second chance.

Dear Helen: My sister is my problem; she's 14, I am 15. Homework gets her down. Instead of trying to grasp the meaning of what she is studying, she'll sit there and bawl until I do her homework for her. When I don't, she yells at me until Mom and Pop think I'm the one to blame.

I think she should do her own studying if she's ever going to amount to anything. How can I tell her so without bringing the ciling down on my luckless head? —N.

Dear : Your sister will have to learn her lessons the hard way later on in life unless she does her own homework now. Tell her you're saying No, for her good. If she persists in acting the spoiled child, ask your parents to see her teacher. They hurt instead of helping her by their leniency. She should read my leaflet, "Manners and Young People." Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.

Dear Helen: I need help fast! My boy friend keeps me a prisoner. Every time I try to run away he stops me either at the bus station, airport or railway station. When he leaves home, he calls every 20 minutes to check up on what I am doing. He has shut me off completely from the outside world.

Once, he even cut off all my hair so I wouldn't leave the house to see my ill mother. How can I escape from this monster? Answer in the newspaper. —XYZ

Dear XYZ: A man who does the things you claim this one does needs psychiatric treatment. If you were able to write me, you surely can get word of your plight to the police. The laws of the country are for the protection of its people, of whom you are one. There is no excuse for letting a man dominate you, unless you find satisfaction in such a relationship. Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Literacy Test

House convened Thursday, but Van Dalsem's filibuster kept it from coming to a vote.

After disposing of the literacy amendments, the House began acting on 13 other proposed amendments, all dealing with minor changes in the bill.

Van Dalsem launched the talk-fest Thursday and kept the floor until Speaker Marion Crank arbitrarily declared the morning hour expired, taking both Van Dalsem and the bill he was arguing about off the floor.

Under House rules, anything under consideration when the morning hour expires must be brought up again during the morning hour on the following day. It cannot, however, be carried over into the regular order of business.

Van Dalsem can, however, keep the bill trapped in the morning hour as long as he desires. The morning hour, usually reserved for consideration of non-controversial proposals, lasts one hour and Van Dalsem can speak for one hour a day.

Crank exercised his power to end the morning hour when it became obvious that Van Dalsem was serious about his filibuster.

An extended filibuster was not expected. Van Dalsem said he merely wanted to keep the anti-literacy provision faction from rushing anything through the House.

Pulaski County Rep. Jim Brandon proposed an amendment to strike the literacy feature immediately after the House opened for business Thursday. Van Dalsem objected, but the House voted 51-32 to consider the amendment.

Brandon explained that he thought the literacy requirement would disenfranchise many electors and would be burdensome.

Van Dalsem said he objected to anyone trying to amend his bill. "I've been trying to work out a compromise with these boys, but they won't wait," he said.

Van Dalsem introduced the bill, but it was drawn up by a special Legislative Council committee. The bill is designed to replace the poll tax registration in anticipation that the poll tax will be outlawed.

Van Dalsem offered no objection, however, when Hempstead County Rep. Talbot Feild Jr., offered the literacy amendment Wednesday.

The Feild amendment was offered without explanation. It was approved by the Rules Committee before it was brought before the House.

The House defeated again a bill by Jefferson County Jess Walt to permit posting of certain unfenced lands. Walt has tried to get such a bill passed in each of his four terms.

The measure got 49 votes Thursday but needed 51 to pass. A move to clinch defeat of the bill failed, however, and it can be voted on again in this session.

Also defeated by the House was Benton County Rep. Hardy Croxton's bill to permit newspaper publication of the names of persons 15 and over tried in juvenile court. Present law prohibits use home. "The new movement," a communique said, "will work to increase our financial potential and guarantee that oil will continue to flow abroad."

Between communiques the rebel-held radio played patriotic songs of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic with which Kassem had carried on a bitter feud.

Another broadcast assured all foreigners in Iraq their lives and properties would be protected.

The rebels said they were rising against imperialism in the name of Arab brotherhood.

Kassem voiced similar sentiments on July 14, 1958, when he seized power in an army revolt in which pro-Western King Faisal II, his uncle, Crown Prince Abdul Ilah and Premier Nuri Said were killed.

Voices on the radio chanted "union, union" in an apparent cry for union with Nasser and the U.A.R.

The broadcasts gave indications that the rebels' control was not complete.

Communiques and statements urged the people to fight on the streets for the revolt.

One broadcast said six officers, ranging in rank from colonel to first lieutenant, formed a "National Council of the Revolutionary Command" and would direct the national guard.

The rebels ordered "all army units not to answer to any call or to make any move" except at their orders.

Of names of minors involved in juvenile court proceedings.

The House passed bills to permit one city to contract to provide water for another, to establish a permanent press room at the capitol and to remove a requirement that school busses have state licenses. All were House bills and were sent to the Senate.

The Senate completed legislative action on House bills to provide for additional prison sentences for convicts who maintain themselves to escape work and to require automobile parts dealers to maintain records on used parts they buy from individuals.

The Senate spent most of its day approving gubernatorial appointments to various boards and commissions.

Both houses were scheduled to reconvene at 10 a.m. Friday.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus notified the House Thursday that he had signed into law a bill to require write-in candidates to file 30 days before a general election, instead of 48 hours.

House introductions Thursday included a bill by Benton County Rep. Roy Galyean to do away with capital punishment. Galyean, a Baptist minister, has tied to get such a bill passed in each of the last three sessions.

Ouachita County Rep. David Pryor introduced a bill to set up uniform purchasing procedures for county governments. A similar Pryor bill was defeated in 1961.

Boy Scouts Hold Court of Honor in Hope

Earlier this week, in preparation for Boy Scout Week, a Caddo Council Court of Honor was held here. Scouts are shown above taking the Scouting oath. Administering the oath is (center) Jerry O'Neal, who recently was awarded the Silver Beaver. Mr. O'Neal is certainly the youngest man ever to receive this highest award in the Caddo Council and perhaps in the history of Scouting. At the left is Glen Overturn, local Scoutmaster, and at the right is Billy Don Simpson, Prescott Scoutmaster.

The Piney Woods District of Boy Scouts of America held a court of honor at the City Hall Auditorium earlier this week.

Troops attending and their Scoutmasters were as follows:

Troop 62 — Jerry O'Neal Hope

Troop 91 — Glen Overturn, Hope

Troop 70 — Maurice Hartsell, Stamps

Troop 81 — Billy Don Simpson, Prescott

Huffman, Rt. 1, Hope and to David Byrd son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Byrd Jr. of Nashville. The Eagle Award is one of the highest awards a boy can earn in Scouting. Less than 2% of all boys who enter scouting achieve this rank. Terry's Eagle Badge was awarded by Clifford Franks, Vice President of Caddo Area Council and Executive Board member. David's award was presented by Mr. Walter Balch former Scoutmaster and Executive Board member.

Star Award's were presented by John Teeter Jr. Executive Board member of Prescott, 1st. class awards presented by Jamie Boyette of Washington Assistant S. M. Troop 91. 2nd class awards Mr. E. J. Ward Stamps 25 yr. pen, and Chester Anderson Fulton 20 yr. pen by Melvin R. Cook, Scout Executive Caddo Area Council.

W. A. Riemann Priest of Episcopal Church, Hope, gave a short talk about the God & Country Award to be presented to Terry Huffman at the Episcopal Church later.

The large, emerald cut diamond, displayed at the New York World's Fair in 1939, was set in a ring insured for $130,000.

Police called the theft an inside job. They said the door in the Hotel Pierre apartment apparently had been opened with a celluloid strip to press back the lock.

Mrs. Selznick had left the apartment at 6:30 p.m. She and Sol Rosenberg, a long-time friend, went to dinner and saw a motion picture.

She discovered the loss when she returned to the hotel at Fifth Avenue and 61st St., off Central Park.

The Tiffany Diamond and about 30 other pieces of jewelry had been taken from a vanity table in a room between a bedroom and bathroom in her 10th-floor suite.

The diamond, weighing 20.23 carats, was set in a platinum ring with two smaller diamonds.

Mrs. Selznick, 54, is the former Irene Gladys Mayer, daughter of Louis B. Mayer, motion picture magnate.

She married David O. Selznick, motion picture producer, in 1930. The couple had two sons, Lewis Jeffrey and Daniel Mayer. They divorced in 1949, and Selznick married actress Jennifer Jones.

Uniform Tuition in State Schools

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — E. L. Angell, executive director of the Commission on Co-ordination of Higher Educational Finance, said Thursday beginning Sept. 1 Arkansas' seven state supported colleges will charge uniform tuition fees.

The basic fee for resident students will be $90 a semester. For non-resident students enrolling for the first time will pay $190. The fees now range from $71 to $90 for resident and $75 to $175 for non-resident students. Fees for out-of-state students now enrolled will not change, Angell said.

Rep. Paul Van Dalsem said Arkansas was scheduled to get $169,715 from the Department of the Interior for state projects as part of the Kennedy administration's accelerated public works program, provided matching funds were made available.

But the matter was left pending. The court never declared whether—or when—the two had purged themselves.

Instead of ruling, the court asked the Justice Department to bring criminal contempt charges. In criminal contempt, a defendant cannot escape a penalty by agreeing to obey the order and purge himself.

The fine or sentence is almost unlimited in both types of contempt.

Chrysler Reports Earnings Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Chrysler Corp. today reported record earnings in the fourth quarter of 1962 and directors proposed to split the common stock 2-for-1 and increase the dividend.

The news followed disclosure of record-high earnings for 1962 by the only auto manufacturers larger than Chrysler, General Motors and Ford.

Chrysler cleared $65.4 million, or $7.24 a share for the year, compared with $11.1 million or $1.24 a share in 1961.

Despite the company's spectacular recovery from the relatively doldrums in recent years, the results still were far below Chrysler's best profit year—1949, when net income soared to $132,170,000.

Critic Backed Down by Data on Cuba

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has flashed across the nation's television screens an unprecedented display of intelligence data to support its stand that Cuba is free of Soviet offensive weapons.

The report to the nation late Wednesday had a double purpose: to reassure the people and to squeeze the steam out of a boiling political controversy over Cuba's armed might.

But despite Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement that he believes beyond any reasonable doubt that all offensive weapons have been removed from Cuba, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating seemed in no mood to let up.

Keating, a New York Republican who has been making charges since last August about Cuba's military might, said none of his statements had been disputed by McNamara in the television report which featured an intelligence expert and many reconnaissance photographs.

Many of the before-and-after photographs of missile sites and shots of Soviet ships at sea with missiles and crated IL28 bombers aboard had been made public before, during last fall's crisis.

But never before had the American people been given such a thorough account of how the United States detected the Soviet missile bases and rode herd at long range on departure of the missiles and bombers virtually every step of the way.

The administration's aim obviously was to impress the American people with the ability of U.S. aerial cameras and intelligence experts to ferret out whatever military gear the Communists try to hide.

In another move Wednesday, Kennedy ordered into effect penalties against foreign shipowners carrying cargo to Cuba.

With White House direction, officials mounted a massive two-way counterattack against those who have been claiming there is a growing threat in Cuba.

Before the televised report, Central Intelligence Agency chief John A. McCone went before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee.

"We are convinced beyond reasonable doubt that all offensive missiles and bombers known to be in Cuba" have been pulled out, McCone said.

The Pentagon chief went even further, in an attempt to knock down persistent reports, mainly from Cuban refugee sources, that the Soviets are hiding missiles in caves, out of sight of prying aerial cameras.

"I am satisfied that there are no major elements of offensive weapons systems in the caves of Cuba," McNamara said.

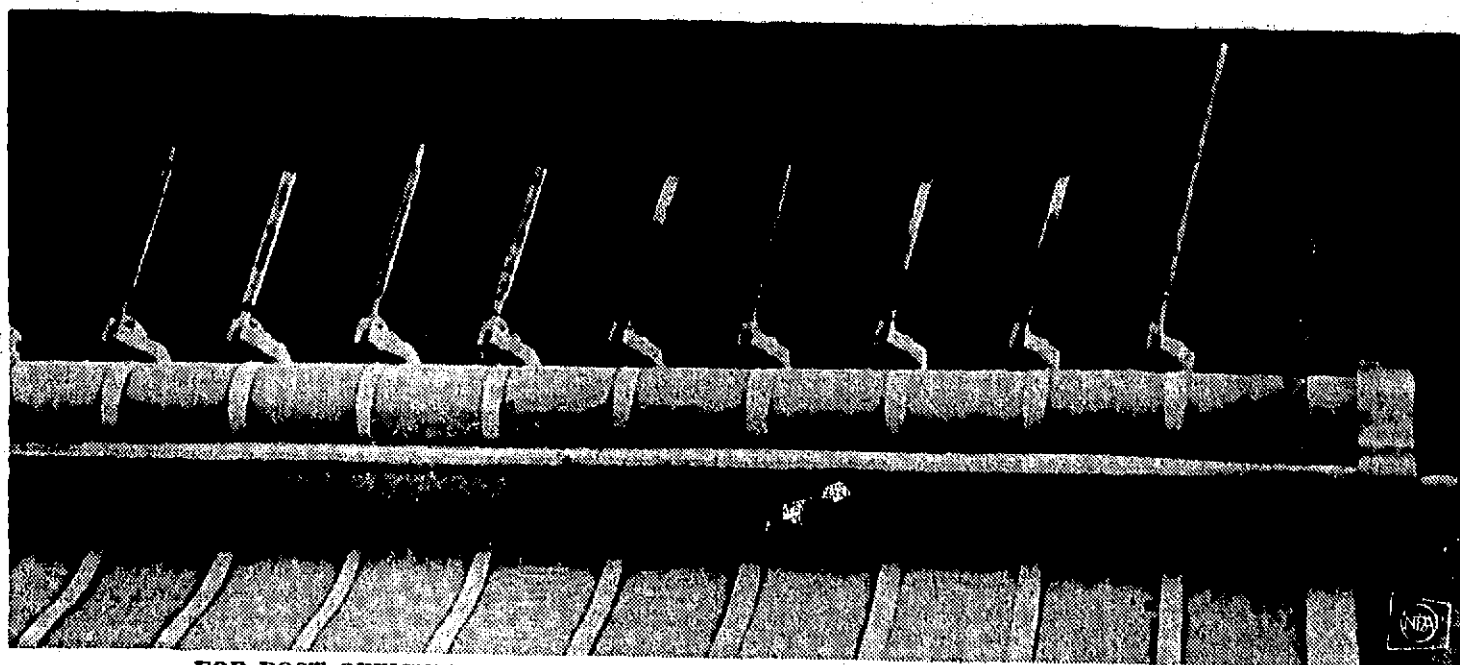

He reported for the first time that recent reconnaissance has revealed that certain equipment of Soviet combat forces, gear associated with battlefield-type rockets, "has also started to be moved out of the island back to the Soviet Union."

Temperatures Plunge

NEW YORK (AP)—The temperature plummeted to 2 degrees below zero at 9 a.m., today the lowest reading in the city in two years.

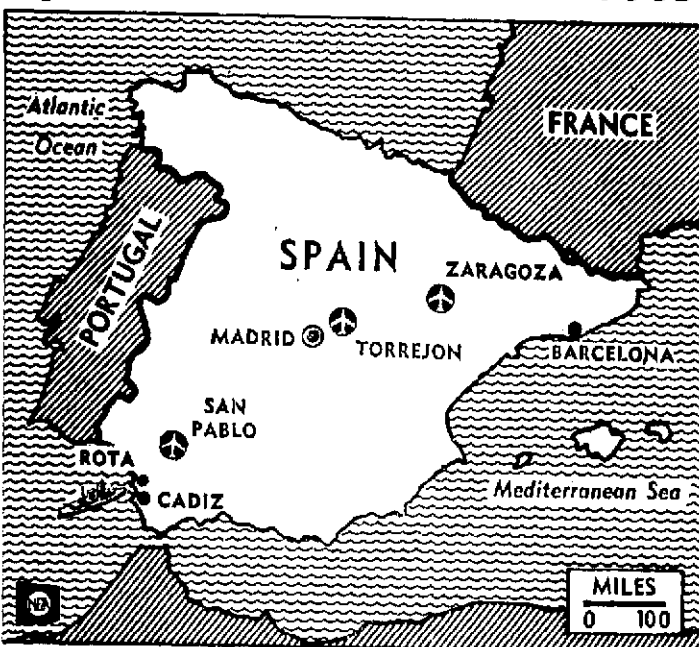

The previous low was 2 below on Feb. 2, 1961.

The record for this date is 7 below, in 1934.

"Chester suggested that we sell my idea to Magnetic," Belle continued. "He said Magnetic would pay me for the idea and save me the expense of developing it."

I agreed, but Mr. Rispin rejected the idea before Chester had finished explaining that it was my invention, not his. Rispin wouldn't give Chester a chance to explain anything. Later, while I was in California, I developed my invention, and used a legacy to form the dummy corporation to hold the patent.

"That in itself was a guilty act," said Bradley. "No," said Belle Pruitt. "I didn't want to embarrass Chester in the event we sold the patent to a competitor of Magnetic. I would sell it to Magnetic yet, but the price will be higher than the first offer."

Bradley scowled. He didn't want to fight for it in court. Rodney McCann would blame him. Not Rispin, for not picking up the idea first. "Could this invention have a bearing on Chet's murder?" he asked. "Why? It wasn't Chester's invention," she said. "What bearing on your future life?" he said finally. "I understand the feeling that everyone in this room must have. We're wondering if someone we know and work with is a murderer. I hope not. But it has to be somebody and the people who had an opportunity to commit this crime are people we work with, people we respect, even though we might not always agree with them." He sighed heavily. "At least we seem to have cleared the air a little."

"Yes, Corbin," said Belle Pruitt. "We've been very frank and we've found out who our friends are."

Bradley didn't seem to hear her. "Heaven knows what I'll tell Rodney," he rose, walked to the closet and got his coat and hat. He went out the door without speaking.

Clague and Rispin got up, said goodby to Belle Pruitt and followed their boss. Stroup said to Matt, "Can I give you a lift?" "No thanks," said the detective. "There are a couple of things I'd like to talk over with Mrs. Pruitt."

Stroup said goodby and went out the door, closing it behind him. Matt turned to Belle Pruitt, who had seated herself again. "I wanted to examine your husband's clothes."

"His clothes? All of them?" "His suits. Do you know if he wore the same suit last Thursday that he wore the day before?"

She thought deeply. "That was so long ago—it seems ages—I can't remember. Usually when he left in the morning he'd mention that he had a suit to go to the cleaners. I don't think he sent it. Yes, Mr. Bacon. If it will help you, by all means look at his clothes. But I don't see . . ."

"I want to go through the pockets. Have you touched his things by any chance?"

She shook her head. "I could not bring myself to do it." She led Matt into the master bedroom. A clothes closet, roomy and neat, was on one side of the room. There were three business suits, a tuxedo, and several pairs of slacks hanging there.

The pockets of the first two suits revealed nothing. Apparently hadn't been worn since they were last cleaned. The third suit was slightly wrinkled.

Matt found what he sought in the pocket of the coat. It was a small leather holder containing four keys. One was a car key.

"That's the house key," said Belle Pruitt, pointing to the second. "One's the key to his office, but he never used it. I think the last one is a key to the door of the Nuclear Lab."

"The back door key?" "Yes. Yes, I'm sure of it. He and Wesley had back door keys. Some of the chemicals sent to the lab are brought in that way and they're hot—radioactive. Chester or Wesley had to be on hand to make sure no one was exposed."

Union Hot Shot to Try His Hand

NEW YORK (AP)—The international president of the striking printers union was to come from Colorado today to join talks seeking to end the blackout of the city's nine major newspapers, in its 62nd day.

Also due here to sit in on mediation talks—recessed until Friday—were international presidents of three unions whose members, while they are not on strike, are among 1,000 newspaper employees idled by the walkout.

Bertram A. Powers, head of Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, announced that ITU President Elmer F. Brown was coming from Colorado Springs at the mayor's request and "because of his concern."

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who has been conducting City Hall talks with both sides, told newsmen he telephoned Brown in Colorado Springs and told him it would be very helpful if he came striking Pressmen's Union announced Wednesday night it had reached a contract settlement with publishers of the struck Plain Dealer and the Press & News. The two-year pact calls for $10 wage increases and improved vacation pay, plus fringe benefits and improved working conditions. The agreement could set a pattern for settlement with 11 other newspaper unions, all of whose contracts have expired.

The AFL-CIO Cleveland Newspaper Guild reached agreement Wednesday with the Plain Dealer on all issues but money items for a proposed two-year contract.

A major stumbling block between the Guild and both papers has been union security. Negotiations on that issue remain to be resolved between the Guild and the Press & News.

Also on strike against the two Cleveland dailies are the printers, the maters and the machinists—all affiliated with the AFL-CIO—and the Teamsters Union (Ind.).

More Ransom Is Going to Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) - Another consignment of ransom for the Cuba invasion prisoners is to be flown to Fidel Castro today from Miami. Whether the plane delivering it will return from Cuba with refugees was not known.

The Red Cross shipment of 15,000 pounds of drugs and medicine was aboard a Pan American DC6B. Such planes can carry 100 or more passengers, and several times they have returned from ransom flights jammed with Cubans or U.S. citizens of Cuban extraction.

Cigarette Smoking Declined in 1962

WASHINGTON (AP) - Cigarette smoking declined last year for the first time since 1954, the Commerce Department reported Thursday, but only by an average of two cigarettes per person.

Average consumption last year was computed at 199.2 packs per person, compared with 199.3 packs in 1961. A pack contains 20 cigarettes.

The department obtained its average by dividing the number of packs consumed by its census count of persons over 14 years old.

NYU Team Has Respectable 11-2 Record

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The name and disposition belong to Harold (Happy) Hairston, a rangy junior cornerman for New York University. He got the name and disposition because, like Topsy, he just grew that way. The reaction comes from NYU basketball coach Lou Ruffini and the Violet fans. They couldn't be happier that the 6-foot-7 scoring whiz is back.

Hairston, just returned to the team after sitting out the first half of the season because of academic difficulties, combined with Barry Kramer for 66 points as New York U. beat Furman 108-82 in Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The victory pushed the Violets' record to 11-2 and marked NYU as one of the prime Eastern candidates for a berth in post-season tournament, either the NCAA or the National Invitational.

Temple beat Manhattan 57-47 in the first half of the doubleheader, winning its 13th in 17 starts.

In other major games, Providence beat DePaul 77-59 at Providence; Niagara, which won its first 10 games, lost its second straight, 68-67 at Syracuse; Notre Dame defeated Boston College 74-66 at Newton, Mass., homestanding; North Carolina trounced Maryland 82-63 and Oklahoma City won at Hardin-Simmons 96-64.

2nd Round in Phoenix Open

Phoenix Open—SPLS PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Phoenix Open Golf Tournament was skin tight going into the second round today with three par-busters sharing a one-stroke lead and 42 others within four blows of them.

Out front in the four-day race for $35,000 prize money after-under-par 67s Thursday were Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Jay Hebert.

Breathing down their necks at 68 were Arnold Palmer, who is trying to win this one for the third straight year; Tommy Aaron, Bob Harris and Cary Middlecott. Julius Boros and Jimmy Clark.

Ten others were grouped at 69; 10, including Billy Casper, at 70, and 16 at 71.

Nicklaus, Palmer, Player and Casper already have won tournaments this year. The only 1963 winner who failed to break par was 72 on the flat 6,679-yard Arizona Country Club course was Jack Burke Jr. He shot a 75.

Sale of Duck Stamps Dropped

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) —

Figures released here show the sale of duck stamps dropped about 50 per cent from the 1960-61 to the 1961-62 hunting season. Postmaster Brummitt reported sale of only 889 stamps last season, compared to 1,786 the year before.

AFTER THE BALL—Bob Cousy, right, of the Boston Celtics and the Chicago Zephyrs' Si Green leap for a rebound at Madison Square Garden as Celtics' Tom Heinsohn looks on.

UPS AND DOWNS—Gene Shue of the New York Knickerbockers ends up on his back as teammate Dennis Butcher goes down and Tom Heinsohn of the Boston Celtics teeters precariously. Under the watchful eye of the referee an unidentified player gets the basketball in the scramble on New York's Madison Square Garden basketball court.

Athletic Probe May Be Made

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new row among rival American track and field organizations threatened today to bring a full scale Senate investigation.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., chairman of the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, instructed his staff to resume its interrupted preliminary investigation.

Kefauver had halted the inquiry to await developments, after Gen. Douglas MacArthur arranged a truce on Jan. 19 among those who supervise and police collegiate and other amateur track and field events. The truce has proved to be less than 100 per cent effective.

Main figures in the dispute are the Amateur Athletic Union, National Collegiate Athletic Association, the college-backed United States Track and Field Federation, and some smaller partisan groups.

President Kennedy, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Kefauver and others have expressed concern the fight might hurt this country's chances to field its strongest team in the 1964 Olympic Games.

The federally chartered U.S. Olympic Committee, in which the AAU has the dominant voice, handles the selection of this country's Olympic contestants.

The January truce put a stop to the suspension of athletes for competing in meets sponsored by one or another of the organizations. But recently the fight flared anew over interpretation of the truce terms, with sanctioning the main issue. The AAU and USTF are trying now to work out some new agreement.

Paper Says Hoffa Bond Has Failed

CHICAGO (AP) — The Tribune said today that James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, and other top Teamsters officials have failed to obtain satisfactory surety bonds although they are required under the Landrum-Griffin labor law to have them in effect by Friday.

The Tribune said that Frank Wright Sr., president of United Bonding Co., Indianapolis, who promised to provide the bonds, offered a proposal that was too little—and probably too late.

Wright had announced that he would bond the Teamsters' leaders but the Tribune said he discovered that his company had a $60,000 bond limit for any one person.

Hoffa had charged last week that the Justice Department was exerting pressure on bonding companies to prevent them from insuring Teamsters' funds. However, he told a congressional committee that he had no first-hand information of this.

The Tribune said that a Chicago insurance executive, who was not identified, said that because the International Teamsters Union has almost $40 million in assets it will be necessary for Hoffa and other international leaders to post $500,000 bonds.

It said Wright was in Washington to confer with Teamsters leaders to discuss the coverage his company could give them under the Landrum-Griffin Act, which requires union officials to post bonds covering 10 per cent of all union funds they control.

The Tribune said Wright related that his firm will cover a number of Teamsters clerks and other office workers who do not require more than a $60,000 bond.

On Aug. 31, 1961, total assets of all savings and loan associations in the United States exceeded $77,500,000,000, an increase of $9,300,000,000 over the corresponding date in 1960. Total assets hit an all-time peak in 1961 and the dollar gain over the preceding year was the largest in savings and loan history.

The paper added that insurance companies are limited to write surety bonds up to 10 per cent of their surplus. Wright could write all the Teamsters bonding business only if other insurance companies, with enough assets and Treasury department approval, would reinsure the bonds, the Tribune said.

It added that a spokesman for Hoffa said that the union president has put aside all other union business in an effort to work out some sort of bonds before the deadline. Hoffa has said that it might be necessary to shut down the union financial business when the bonds expire Friday, the Tribune said.

Mistrial Ordered in Murder Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Judge William J. Kirby declared a mistrial Thursday in the trial of Ted B. Freeman, 33, charged with second degree murder in the fatal shooting of Billie McKim of Little Rock.

Kirby ordered the mistrial after questioning a spectator about a conversation with witnesses during the court session.

McKim was shot to death at the

Close Games Feature Two County Play

Three games were just about as close as they could be last night in the two-county tournament underway in the Bodcaw gymnasium and the fourth one was fairly close.

Emmet Junior Girls eked out a 25 to 24 victory over Willisville. Douglas score 16 for Emmet but Willisville Goodman was high point with 23.

Blevins Junior Boys had plenty of trouble edging Spring Hill 45 to 42. Ross made 17 for Blevins and W. Morse made 11 for Spring Hill.

Only two points separated the Laneburg and Spring Hill Girls at the end with Laneburg holding them. The score was 46 to 44. Mae Almond made 19 for Laneburg while Harriell and J. Kidd had 16 each for the losers.

Blevins Senior Boys won handily over the Laneburg by a 71 to 58 score with Harris hitting 32. Armstrong hit 22.

In Tuesday night's results the score should have read Bodcaw 45 and Cale 33. Thus Bodcaw, not Cale, meets Spring Hill tonight in the semifinals. Games tonight:

6 p.m. Spring Hill Jr. Girls vs Saratoga

7 p.m. Cale Jr. Boys vs Laneburg

8 p.m. Saratoga Sr. Girls vs Willisville

9 p.m. Spring Hill Sr. Boys vs Bodcaw

U.S. Unveils Secrets About Cuba

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—In its effort to document its case on Cuba, the administration broke with cloak-and-dagger tradition and unveiled some trade secrets of jet age spying.

In their living rooms, television viewers got a look at the kind of intelligence briefing usually seen only behind guarded doors of the Pentagon and State Department.

Obviously, the news conference late Wednesday on Soviet military strength in Cuba was put together to counter congressional claims that the Soviet buildup was bigger and a greater hazard than the Kennedy administration has admitted.

Secretary of defense Robert S. McNamara put it this way:

"We are dealing with very sensitive matters... we considered it so important to expose to you the extent of our knowledge that we have done so, even at the risk of degrading our intelligence capability. It is always a fine line to draw between the release of information that is in the public interest on the one hand and the maintenance of security of our intelligence collection efforts on the other."

Titan Missiles Now in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Air Force announced today that the first Titan II missiles to be installed in one of 18 sites under construction in central Arkansas have arrived in the state.

The 102-foot missile was airlifted to the Little Rock Air Force Base from Denver, Colo., arriving Wednesday morning.

Col. Julian M. Bleyer, commander of the Site Activation Task Force at the air base, said the missile probably will be installed into a silo near Searcy, Ark., sometime this month.

It is expected that the first site will be operational before the end of the year, Bleyer said.

VFW Conference Set for Weekend

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The mid-winter conference of the Arkansas Department of Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held in Little Rock Saturday and Sunday. Charles J. Perilloux of Baton Rouge, La., member of the national council of the VFW, is expected to attend.

Chief of Defense Robert S. McNamara and John T. Hughes, special assistant to Gen. Joseph Carroll, director of the Pentagon's Defense Intelligence Agency, was remarkable for several reasons.

One was the detailed photographs, projected on a 12-foot high screen. Another was that it revealed intelligence collecting methods still being used. Traditionally, a spy operation is blanketed in secrecy for many years.

Some of the photographs were made at high altitudes (perhaps above 60,000 feet). Others were low, one described as low as 600 feet.

One of the dramatic photographs caught the stark shadow of the camera plane as it flashed across a harbor area at 600 miles per hour—low, low down.

It was obvious that all of the intelligence didn't come from aerial reconnaissance. McNamara backed off slightly on the usually hushed work of agents and informers, usually referred to in the latter case.

He contended that several thousand reports come in each month in material and personnel moving into Cuba, all of it analyzed and evaluated.
